Director's Notes

CHARLOTTE DEATON, SAUL LAINEZ

WandaVision

Charlotte Deaton and Saul Lainez are the very proud presenters of the WandaVision One Act. They have been involved in the Drama Department in person since their sophomore and freshman years respectively, and getting to participate in a production of their own design with such talented actors and crew is one of the best things they've gotten to do within the department so far!

MELODY KAMAR, PAYTON GLANDORF

Big Bang Theory

Thank you so much to the cast for all the hard work that you have put into this production. These past two months have been a blast for us, and we have loved watching you all learn and grow. If this is your first time doing an after-school production, we hope that you will stick around for the spring musical. You all are such amazing and bright people, and getting to work with you all has been the highlight of our days. In addition, thank you to the crew for working with our technical needs and helping make our show a success! Thank you again for everything that you have put into this show, for your dedication truly made it a big bang!

Boy Meets World

Ah, when a Boy Meets horror movies...

Thank you for joining us today on this spooky ride. Even though Halloween was last month, we implore you to grab your popcorn and watch as these talented young actors face the threat of a secret murderer, at school! These guys have been working to the bone for our version of this Boy Meets World episode, and by golly, they've really done it. I really can't stress how many laughs I've given personally to the jokes and delivery of the cast, and I just can't wait to share it with you all. Please, all the credit is theirs. Now, Boy Meets World and horror fans alike, remember those horror movie rules, and hold onto your hats. It's about to get frightening. Dun Dun Dun...!

AMANDA HAMILTON, NIA JOHNSON

My Little Pony

Hey! I am so excited for you all to be able to watch the amazing performers of the One Acts this year! I am so proud of everyone involved in all five shows, whether on stage or in the wings! Please sit back and enjoy the wonderful shows that were made possible by everyone's hard work! Thank you for watching!

Toy Story

Thank you for joining us tonight as you support the GMHS drama seniors as we direct our own One Acts. We hope you laugh, smile, and receive a sense of nostalgia as we take a look inside of an old Disney movie classic. Think back to your childhood, do you remember your favorite toy? The one you took everywhere you went, maybe you even wrote your name on the bottom of their foot. This is a chance to get closer inside Andy's room and be alongside some of his most beloved toys; Woody, Slinky, Rex, Hamm, and a few others. But what will happen when a new sheriff comes to town? Let's find out as we take a look inside Toy Story. Now sit back, relax, and always remember you've got a friend in me!

A huge thank you to our fellow student cast. You all worked so hard on this and we appreciate all of your effort, we couldn't have done this without you. Now let's take this to infinity and beyond.
